

Precision Craftsmanship in Architectural Millwork

Achieving the desired results of a custom architectural millwork project requires the work of an expert - a professional with the right mix of skill, productivity and attitude - to meet the demands and specifications of the design.

To achieve superior millwork results your customers expect, it pays to place your confidence in professionally trained carpenters who share common goals with their employer: Quality work done on time, on budget, and according to the unique specifications of the custom millwork.

Partner with the Southeastern Carpenters Regional Council and get these hard-to-find professionals on your job site. It's a decision that will set the stage for solid performance, outstanding aesthetics and durability of the final work product.

Whether your project features decorative or functional elements, or if it's part of an historical replication or modern design, or even if it requires a custom creation, these uniquely trained and experienced carpenters are available to meet your needs immediately.

Experts

Quality Work via Quality Training

Our custom millwork carpenters receive both classroom and hands-on training at state-of-the-art training centers around our region. Initial training for apprentices and skill enhancement courses for journeymen are taught by industry veterans or industry and manufacturer technical experts. Subjects range from basic skills to new technologies, tools and/or installation methods. This comprehensive training translates into unmatched productivity by Southeastern Carpenters.
